Greetings!

We're really lichen the news we have to share this January! Read on to learn about a rare species found at the Bird Family Bog Preserve this December.

While it's been a damp start this year, we are still finding plenty of ways to share nature knowledge and get out in the parks. Find all programs on our Things to Do page.

In the Parks

State threatened moss observed at Bird Family Bog Preserve

Dichelyma capillaceum was observed by Tomas Curtis, Natural Areas Specialist, in December of 2022. The species is known from less than 10 populations in Ohio and is state threatened. It grows below the high-water line on trees and dead wood in vernal pools.

Why is this significant?

Helping to preserve healthy ecosystems is important. When a species becomes endangered, it is a sign that the ecosystem is slowly falling apart. Each species that is lost triggers the loss of other species within its ecosystem. We depend on healthy ecosystems to purify our environment. Without healthy forests, grasslands, rivers, oceans and other ecosystems, we will not have clean air, water, or land.

Portage Park District hosts Ohio Moss and Lichen Association Annual Meeting

Portage Park District is hosting the Annual Meeting of the Ohio Moss and Lichen Association on February 4. The Association will hold their official business meeting in the morning and offer a workshop at 1p.m. to members of the public.

The public workshop will cover the basics of lichens, mosses and liverworts. Those interested in attending can meet the group at 1 p.m. at the Morgan Operations Center, 8505 Nicodemus Rd., Ravenna, OH 44266. Register here, space is limited.

Holiday Luncheon Chili Cookoff

This December, we took the opportunity to come together as a staff and enjoy a luncheon. However, in true PPD style, we added a little flare and had a chili cook off. Pictured to the right is our first time chili champ - Tomas Curtis! Tomas won against 9 other chilis and went home with bragging rights, a chili trophy and some frog gummy snacks.

Our 2021 defending champ, Bob Lange, had this to say, "I'll be back". It seems our natural areas team really knows their chili!

Wild Hikes Challenge

Our 2023 theme is The Year of the Wood frog! You'll even find some Wood frog facts on your hiking form this year.
