Employees may only post to office accounts using office equipment, during office hours.

b. Personal Social Media Use

The Treasurer's Office believes in a free and full exchange of information with the public online, and believes employee internet use is an important part of that dialogue. That said, such communications create the possibility for the exposure of sensitive information. Where employee communications include the posting of inappropriate material about taxpayers, the office, or its employees, employees may be subject to disciplinary action consistent with the County's existing protocols.

Employees are reminded to be careful what they disclose online, including on social media sites. Employee use of social media accounts is subject to the following prohibitions:

1. Comments or displays about co-workers, supervisors, or taxpayers that are vulgar, obscene, threatening, intimidating, harassing, discriminatory or hostile on account of age, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, ethnicity, nationality, disability, military status or other protected classes, statuses, or characteristics.
2. Statements or uses of the Treasurer's seal or insignia indicative of the authority of the office that are not authorized by the Treasurer or Chief Deputy Treasurer.
3. Uses of the Treasurer's seal or official office accounts or profiles to express support for a particular candidate, political campaign, political party, or political organization. This prohibition on supporting candidates utilizing office accounts or insignia extends to the activities of the current office holder, where those activities fall outside of the Treasurer's official duties.
4. Disclosure of confidential information acquired in the course of employment.
5. Communications that demonstrate a substantial risk of negatively impacting the office's reputation, mission, or operations, or employees' abilities to perform their job duties.

If an employee believes that an online communication violates this policy, such violation should be reported immediately to the Treasurer or Chief Deputy Treasurer for investigation and possible disciplinary action consistent with the County's existing protocols.

Nothing in this policy should be construed to restrict communications protected by the U.S. or Ohio constitutions.

VII. Public Use and Conduct

a. Forum Moderation and User Removal

While the Treasurer's Office seeks to create robust communications with the public in all possible venues, the content manager reserves the right to remove any material tending to reduce the civility or accuracy of the forum.

The content manager will remove any postings containing confidential personal information, or infringing on copyrights, trademarks, or other intellectual property where permission for use has not been granted by the property holder.

No pictures of individuals under the legal age of consent will be posted or permitted without written permission from a parent or legal guardian.

The content manager reserves the right to remove any material appearing to be spam, malware, or other material potentially harmful to County property.

Content likely to be removed includes vulgarity, personal attacks, and content that discriminates or harasses on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability, military status, genetic testing, sexual orientation, gender identity, or other intrinsic personal characteristics.

Statements advocating illegal activity or advertising commercial products or services will not be tolerated, and are also subject to removal.

The list of potentially prohibited items contained in this policy is not exclusive. The content manager may remove any content that defames or disseminates false information. Repeated postings of content that violates the standards established in this policy may lead to the blocking or banning of offending parties.

b. Destruction Policy

In the event information must be deleted, our office will capture a screen shot or PDF of the content, and save it electronically. The content manager will also maintain an electronic document with a brief description of why content was deleted, organized by date. This deleted content file will be maintained consistent with the office's records retention policies.

VIII. Account Creation and Deactivationa. New Account Approval Policy

New office accounts and profiles on social media services may be created by the Treasurer on an as-needed basis, or by the Chief Deputy Treasurer with the consent and counsel of the Treasurer.

Prior to establishing new accounts, proposed accounts will be vetted with the County's Chief Information Officer and Prosecutor's Office to identify best uses and possible pitfalls. The Treasurer retains the right to create, manage and delete social media accounts in service of the official duties of the office.

To ensure continuity of content and access, accounts may only be created using official Portage County email addresses and contact information. Password records will be stored in the Treasurer's Office.

b. Account Wind Down and Closure

Where the Treasurer (or Chief Deputy Treasurer acting on the Treasurer's behalf) determines that continued use of a social media account or profile no longer serves the office's purposes, the account/profile may be wound down and deleted.

Prior to account deletion, the content manager must post a message/statement on the account or profile stating the reason for deletion at least 5 business days prior to completing deletion. All content posted as of the scheduled deletion date must be documented and maintained in accordance with the office's records retention policy.

IX. Records Maintenance

a. Method of Maintenance

No less than once per week, the content manager will capture all content posted on the Treasurer's Facebook page by printing the content as a PDF and saving the document electronically. Such records will be maintained by date in a folder designated for that purpose. The naming convention for such files will be "Treasurer Facebook Capture MO-DA-YEAR".
